MEETS DEATH IN BURNING HOUSE

Elias Steinour, Living at Edge of Town, Third Victim of Fatal Burning in Four Days. Veteran of the Civil War.

Elias Steinour, a veteran of the Civil War and a well known resident of this section, was burned to death about half past five o'clock this morning in a fire which consumed the house of Mrs. Keckler along the Taneytown road about a mile south of town.

Nothing is known about the origin of the fire but it is supposed to have been started from the kitchen stove. Mr. Steinour slept on a cot beside the stove and when his body was recovered from the ruins the charred bedclothes were found wrapped about him and on what remained of the cot. The theory that the bedclothes caught from the stove is not held as Charles Hoffman, who lives on the adjoining place, was the first to discover the fire and when he reached the place the bedclothes had not been consumed though the greater part of the room was in flames.

Mr. Hoffman found the door locked and when he broke it in was driven back by a rush of flames. He went around to the window from where he could see Mr. Steinour's prostrate form on the couch. He called but could not rouse him, the unfortunate man either being soundly asleep or already suffocated. The rapidly increasing flames made any attempt at rescue impossible and it was several hours before the fire had subsided sufficiently to allow any effort to recover the body.

The house was entirely consumed, nothing being left standing but the chimney and in the pile of debris Joseph Galbraith, George Hughes, Harry Koch and several others finally found what remained of Mr. Steinour's body and removed it. The lower limbs were not recovered and little of the head remained except the skull, the remainder crumbling when it reached the air.

Dr. Albert Woomer, of Casstown, the coroner of Adams County, when informed of the circumstances of the burning was of the opinion that no inquest was necessary.

Within the past three years Mr. Steinour's wife was fatally burned dying the day after the accident which resulted in her death. At that time the family was living on East Middle street and Mrs. Steinour in trying to sweep off the top of a red hot stove had her clothing catch fire from the broom which suddenly burst into a blaze. She was frightfully burned and died after many hours' suffering.

Mr. Steinour lived alone on the place where he died. The farm is owned by Mrs. Keckler, who resides in the old Dobbin house on Steinwehr avenue. It is known as the old Weikert property and is located midway between Gettysburg and Round Top. No insurance was held on the house and the loss is total. What furniture Mr. Steinour had in the house was totally consumed.

He was a familiar figure on the streets of Gettysburg and was known by many people. He was a veteran of the Civil war and a pensioner though not a member of the local Grand Army post.

He leaves one brother, Cornelius Steinour, of Butler township, and several more distant relatives. Mrs. Robert Long, of Baltimore street, is a niece.

The funeral will be held from the Post room at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment in the National Cemetery, Mr. Steinour having been a member of Co. B, 99th Pennsylvania Volunteers.

MAY STRAIGHTEN MOUNTAIN CURVES

Crooked Road in Vicinity of Graefenburg on Chambersburg Pike being Considered by State Highway Surveyors.

The engineers now located at Graefenburg inn, making surveys and estimates relative to the reconstruction and re-alignment of parts of the Chambersburg and Gettysburg turnpike, a link of the great highway between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, are spending busy days.

An important change most likely to be mapped out for probable re-alignment of this road is that at and near Newman's on the South mountain.

Beginning at the summit, which has an altitude of 1334 feet, for a distance of a mile to the Marsh Creek cowlit is one of the crookedest points on the road, the original highway there undoubtedly following a worm fence marking an ownership line. With this flexure straightened the cut-off would make two tangents each of half a mile, shorten the distance probably 600 feet and eliminate five curves, two of these reverse. The Willow Grove tollgate is located about midway between the summit and the Marsh Creek bridge.

One of the prettiest views on this South mountain driveway is from the summit of "little Graefenburg," the beautiful summer home of the Misses Dock, of Harrisburg. Here an elevation of about 1000 feet is reached. The Misses Dock own an extensive mountain acreage and their handsome stone mansion, with its fine piazzas, surmounts the hill at a distance of probably a hundred feet from the roadway and an elevation of fifty feet above it. The romantic winding way past their grounds may come under the engineer's hand and in straightening a dangerous curve here he may recommend the slicing off of a dozen feet or more of the base of this hill and crowding the highway that much nearer the dwelling. On this stretch there is much valuable shrubbery planted, most of the varieties being rare and some imported.

It is not likely the McGowan, Shumaker and Gehr grounds where are newly erected cottages will be disturbed and the tremendous stone which gives the name to Miss Anne McGowan's Boulder Lodge is likely to remain although it impinges slightly on the state's right of way. Indeed it does not seem likely that there will be any material changes recommended in the alignment between the Dock cut off and Chambersburg.

The engineers will remain at Graefenburg inn probably a week longer and then go to Chambersburg, where their survey will meet in Memorial square that of the engineers now at work on the Chambersburg and Bedford pike.

GETTYSBURG RURAL NEWS

Snake Killed along Willoughby Run. Ground Frozen almost Two Feet from Surface. Other Rural Route News.

The long winter has had the general effect of making snakes a rare article and few have been seen in Adams County for a number of weeks. Clarence and George McKenrick, of Highland township, have the rather unique distinction of having killed a reptile within the past few days, the two young men dispatching a water snake at Willoughby's Run.

S. L. Null, of route 7, has a curiosity at his home in the shape of a large fully developed corn ear, having around the large end nine little ears. The freak has been seen by many persons none of whom remembers ever having seen anything of the kind. Mr. Null has purchased the place which is now occupied by James Ross near Gettysburg and will move to that location on April 1.

Just how far down the ground has been frozen by the long continued low temperature has been matter of conjecture among the farmers. The only report of this nature which has come to this office is from the farm of Alex. Troxell, on route 4, where some digging was done and actual measurement showed the ground frozen for a distance of twenty three inches from the surface.

Interest in the annual spring sales promises to be as keen this year as ever and The Times is making a special effort to be able to tell its readers of the sales, giving the total amount and the figures brought by the stock. In order to help us in this we would ask those having sales to telephone or mail us accounts of the same as soon as possible after the figures can be obtained. In this way and with the help of auctioneers and clerks, we hope to be able to keep our readers and friends informed of prices and attendance.

John A. Hoar, of York was a visitor at the home of John Kime on route 12, recently. Miss Rosa Kime, Walter Kime and daughters, Susan and Mildred have returned home after a visit to Abbottstown.

WILLIAM E. HEINTZELMAN

William E. Heintzelman, of near Orrtanna, died at John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, on Tuesday where he was taken for an operation for a brain disease. He was operated on February 5th and surgeons had hopes of his recovery but he died very suddenly, February 13th, aged about 40 years.

He leaves his wife and four children, Everett, Clarence, Elizabeth and Carrie all at home. His father and mother also survive, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Heintzelman and, he leaves the following brothers and sisters, Harry and Edward, of Fairfield route 1; Mrs. Hamilton, of Altoona; Effie, of Hanover.

Mr. Heintzelman was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, Orrtanna, and had a large circle of friends.

Funeral Friday, February 16th, meeting at the house at 9 o'clock, services in the Methodist church, Orrtanna, conducted by the Rev. P. C. Hoffman. Interment in Union cemetery, Fairfield.

BIG VALENTINE BUSINESS

There was a rush in valentine business in Gettysburg today and the post office employees report an unusual volume of mail. From the modest post card to the elaborate creation of celluloid, lace and tinsel, all forms of the valentine maker's art went through the office to convey their messages of love to the recipient. While many valentines of these forms were mailed a number preferred to express their tender sentiments in other ways and many boxes of candy and cut flowers were used to convey Valentine's Day greetings.

WILSON GAINS BIG OKLAHOMA VICTORY
Carries Three of the Five Congressional Districts.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Further news concerning the outcome of the Democratic campaign in Oklahoma, preliminary to the selection of delegates to the national convention, came indirectly from Senator Gore wired to his office in Washington, that the Wilson men had carried the First, Fourth, and Fifth Congressional districts in the state. Gore says the Second district is uncertain. He says nothing of the third. While the senator makes no positive predictions, the figures he has wired to his secretary indicate that he is hopeful the Wilson men not only will get a majority of the district delegates, but capture the delegates at large. Wilson men about the capital are jubilant at the Oklahoma prospect. They say the Clark people have built such hopes on carrying Oklahoma that the showing of Wilson's strength there will be a hard blow at the speaker's campaign for the presidency.

RAID JOHNSON'S HOME
The Puglist Smuggled $5000 Neck-lace, Agents Say.
Chicago, Feb. 14.—Secret service agents raided the home of Jack Johnson, the negro puglist champion, and seized a $5000 diamond necklace, which, it is charged, was smuggled into this country.
It is said that if Johnson redeems the necklace he will have to pay $12,000 in duty and penalties.
Government agents say that Johnson attempted to reach a settlement and offered $1000 for the release of the jewels. This was refused. No criminal charge has been made against the negro champion.

Millions In Coke Tar Waste.
Washington, Feb. 14.—As an evidence of waste in this country, President Hubbard, chemist of the United States bureau of good roads, told out that more than 500,000,000 gallons of tar, which could be used in road building, was lost yearly in the coke ovens of the country. Valued at $12 cents a gallon, this is a waste of $24,000,000.
A board of officers at the fort is making an investigation as to the cause of the blaze. There are rumors that the fire was started by some soldier at the fort who did not want to go to the Mexican frontier on an order having been received at the reservation several days ago for all the companies, with one exception, to be ready to leave, augmented by an other message to have the horses and mules at the fort ready for instant shipment to Texas.
There was no stove in the stables, and it is said that when the blaze was discovered the flames appeared to be in every part of the building at the one time.

COMPETITION TO RULE, SAYS HILL
Takes Issue With Recommendation of Carnegie.

AGAINST FEDERAL REGULATION

Says Government's Attempt to Control Business and Fix Prices Would Mean the End of Government.

Washington, Feb. 14.—James J. Hill told the Stanley steel investigating committee that if the federal government ever attempted to control business to the extent of fixing prices it would be the beginning of the end of the government.

The railroad man declared that corporate combination, properly regulated within certain defined limitations, menaced neither the welfare of the people nor the integrity of the government.

Mr. Hill took sharp issue with the recommendations of E. H. Gary, Andrew Carnegie, George W. Perkins and others prominent in the financial world, that laws should be passed providing for government supervision over interstate corporations to the extent of fixing either maximum or minimum prices. He insisted that with the possible exception of the Standard Oil company, "no overgrown corporation" in this country had ever been successful. He argued that the principle of competition in business would prevail as long as the law of the survival of the fittest operated, and he predicted that the law would in all probability continue as an active force forever.

Mr. Hill did not dwell at length on his views relative to government control of corporations. He made a few random observations on the subject at the conclusion of a five-hour hearing before the Stanley committee, which had summoned him to testify relative to the alleged communism of interest between the Hill interests and the United States Steel corporation. Mr. Hill was about to quit the stand when Representative Beall, of Texas, a Democrat, asked him:

"Judge Gary, Mr. Carnegie and others have told us that the age of competition has passed; that the time is not far distant when some agency or government must be established for the closest kind of regulation, including the power to fix prices. What is your opinion about that?"

"The age of competition has not passed," responded Mr. Hill. "It will not pass until you eliminate the selfish motives that move men in this world. If the federal government should undertake the sort of regulation that you suggest there would soon be no federal government."

"Suppose," suggested Chairman Stanley, "that you and other financiers came to exercise complete domination over industry in this country and were allowed to run it without restriction and the rest of society, including labor, became dismembered, unable to check such a combination, how long would the government last under such circumstances?"

"I think it would last about a week," replied Mr. Hill.

The railroad builder went on to say that he would let corporations flourish. "Do not fear them on account of their size," he said, "but don't let them overcapitalise. When they put a dollar into property see to it that it is a hundred cents."

Mr. Hill's testimony covered a wide range. He insisted that the Hill ores in the Mesaba country were of great value, of more value now than when they were taken over under lease by the steel corporation.

FIRE AT FORT DUPONT
Animals of Officers Perish In Supposed Incendiary Blaze.
Washington, Feb. 14.—A fire, thought to be of incendiary origin, destroyed the stable of the coast artillery camp at Fort Dupont, Delaware City, burning to death eleven horses and ten mules.

The fire occasioned a loss estimated at more than $100,000. The officers and men have been in readiness for several days to depart for the Mexican frontier.

A board of officers at the fort is making an investigation as to the cause of the blaze. There are rumors that the fire was started by some soldier at the fort who did not want to go to the Mexican frontier on an order having been received at the reservation several days ago for all the companies, with one exception, to be ready to leave, augmented by an other message to have the horses and mules at the fort ready for instant shipment to Texas.

There was no stove in the stables, and it is said that when the blaze was discovered the flames appeared to be in every part of the building at the one time.

JUDGE ADJOURNS COURT TO WHIP COMMISSIONER

Would Not Stand For Being Called "A Liar."

Midland, Tex., Feb. 14.—"Judge, you are a liar,"
Bang! went the gavel.
"This court will stand adjourn till I whip the man who just called a liar!" exclaimed the judge.

Immediately proceedings halted and Judge J. H. Knowles, presiding in the commissioners' court, withdrew with Commissioner Jules Driver.

"This is undignified (smash), but entirely (biff) manly, according to my (bing) view, commissioner," declared Judge Knowles, as he soundly beat his accuser.

Commissioner Driver belled his name, spectators who witnessed the fight declare, and in a few minutes Judge Knowles appeared to have felt that he had made the punishment fit the crime.

The object lesson completed, Judge Knowles reconvened court, fined him for fighting, then the interrupted proceedings were resumed.

The dispute arose when Commissioner Driver questioned in harsh terms an assertion by Judge Knowles concerning the court's action at a previous session.

TROUBLE TO BURY FAT MAN
Remove Part of Front of House to Get Body Out.

Pittsboro, Pa., Feb. 14.—When the time for burial arrived it was found that it was impossible to get the coffin containing the body of the late Ambrose Moose, Pennsylvania's heaviest man, out of the doorway or the windows of his home at Mount Carbon.

The problem was solved by the removal of part of the front of the house, and then the coffin, braced by steel supports, was carried out by twelve pall bearers.

Moose weighed 525 pounds. A grave twice the size of an ordinary grave was dug at the Presbyterian cemetery to receive the body.

The new trial was granted by Judge Rosalsky, who sentenced Brandt originally. Judge Rosalsky read his report sent to Governor Dix. It took up six full typewritten pages. He emphasized certain points in the report by shaking his fist, and called upon District Attorney Whitman to hear testimony that his investigation into the case was full and thorough, to which Mr. Whitman nodded his head.

Judge Rosalsky ordered the plea of guilty set aside and a new plea entered. A new indictment also was ordered by the judge.

There also was a long statement from Mr. Schiff read in court, in which the banker demanded a full and thorough public investigation of the entire matter.

TAFT WITHDRAWS SWAIN'S NAME

Call's Back Nomination of U. S. Marshal For Delaware.

THE BRIBERY HEARING ENDS

Inquiry Into Bribery Charges Are Halted and Swain Was Not Called to Stand.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The nomination of Cornelius P. Swain as United States marshal for Delaware was withdrawn from the senate.

This action followed a series of hearings, at which wholesale bribery charges in the Delaware election of 1904 were aired.

This action was much to the surprise of everybody interested, and particularly to Swain himself. The hearing of the charges which were preferred by Willard Saulsbury that Swain was unfit to be confirmed as United States marshal abruptly ended without Swain having an opportunity to go on the witness stand to explain the charge that he carried a $3000 campaign fund from Wilmington to Bridgeville.

It was learned that the initiative for the withdrawal of Swain's appointment was taken by Senator Dupont, of Delaware, himself, and as a result the senate judiciary committee was informed by the executive offices that no further hearing would be necessary.

The nomination was withdrawn by President Taft on the recommendation of Attorney General Wickersham after the latter had consulted with Senator Dupont. Swain was charged with activity in the Delaware campaign of 1904, in which it was declared before the senate judiciary committee he had handled money with which votes were purchased.

In the course of the inquiry witnesses testified that Swain had carried a vote buying fund of $3000 from the office of the Dupont Powder works in Wilmington to Bridgeville, where it was spent in buying votes at prices of $10 to white and $5 to negro citizens. An additional $1000 it was declared was used on election day.

That the withdrawal of the nomination was a surprise to Swain and to former Judge Hastings, his counsel, is evident from the fact that they were in Washington ready to proceed, and Swain expected to testify. Mr. Saulsbury as prosecutor was also in Washington.

Senators Sutherland and Overman, the senate judiciary subcommittee, summoned Mr. Hastings into private conference, and a few minutes later called in Mr. Saulsbury.

The senators and counsel filed back into the room. "For reasons we have explained to counsel there will be no hearing at present," Senator Sutherland announced. "Counsel will be informed of any further action."

Swain, who was sitting back in a chair beside Thomas W. Miller waiting to be called, sat up on hearing the announcement. "Can't say a word," he smilingly parried Senator Sutherland when asked what the abrupt adjournment meant.

STEAMERS COLLIDE

Forty-six Sailors Drowned Off Nagasaki, Japan.

Nagasaki, Japan, Feb. 14.—The Japanese steamship Ryoma Maru and Moria Maru were in collision off this port and were so badly damaged that both sank almost immediately.

Thirty-two of the former's crew and fourteen of the latter's were caught between decks and drowned, the remainder being rescued by steamships that witnessed the disaster.

Gus Rublin Is Dead.

New York, Feb. 14.—Gus Rublin, once a leading heavyweight pugilist, died suddenly at his home in Brooklyn, of apoplexy. He was born in Akron, O., and was about forty years old. Rublin fought James J. Jeffries twice in California, the first battle being a ten-round draw, while Jeffries scored a knockout in five rounds in the second affair. Physicians stopped him in six rounds. McCoy also got a decision over Rublin in twenty rounds. Rublin defeated Peter Maher and others, but he never showed championship caliber.

CHEMICAL TARIFF MAKES BIG CHANGE

Democratic Measure Would Increase Revenue.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The chemical tariff revision bill, prepared by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee, was made public.

It puts the following articles on the free list: Acids, sulphate of copper, borax, charcoal and bone black, coal tar and some of its products, sulphate of iron, paris green, London purple, phosphorus sheep dip, sulphate of soda, strychnine, sulphur in all forms, talcum and practically all drugs, such as barks, beans, berries, fruits, dried fibres, roots and the like.

The Democrats will caucus on the measure and on Thursday the majority leader, Representative Underwood, is expected to introduce it in the house. Debate on the bill probably will begin early next week.

The measure reverses the Republican doctrine that articles not produced in the United States should be free of duty. It is the first of the tariff bills in this congress which will, it is estimated, increase instead of decrease revenue. The chemical schedule touches practically every manufacturer in the United States and is the most universal in the tariff law.

The Democratic bill, according to the estimate, increases the revenues from $12,500,000 to $15,200,000 annually. The duties in the bill are all specific, while in the other Democratic tariff bills they have been on the ad valorem basis.

CHILDREN IN CAVE-IN

Forty-five Sawlived Up When Roadway Collapsed.

San Remo, Feb. 14.—While forty-five school children were promenading the San Remo roadway a large part of it collapsed and forty-five of the children were carried down.

The accident was due to subterranean sea erosion, which had undermined a considerable part of the district.

It is feared that a large number of the children have been killed. Five corpses were taken out up to the time this dispatch was sent. Ten injured children have been rescued and taken to nearby hospitals.

All of the children were swallowed up in the underground sea when the road sunk.

FIGHTING BULLS ESCAPE

Ran Amuck After Fire and Over 1000 Drowned in River.

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 14.—Fifteen hundred fighting bulls under training for the arena at the bull breeding establishment at Villaverde, ran amuck after fire had destroyed the ranch building.

The bulls dashed through the country districts, trampling down everything that came in their path. Many persons were seriously injured.

Finally the herd was driven toward the river Tagus, into which the animals jumped, and over 1000 of them were drowned.

Time Clock Causes Strike.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 14.—Efforts made to settle the strike at the Reading Hardware works, whose 1100 employees have gone out, have failed so far. Dissatisfaction with the check system of registration of the men when they report for work, which has just gone into effect, has caused the strike.

Army Officer a Suicide.

Manila, Feb. 14.—Lieutenant Reynolds Powers, of the Eighth Cavalry, has killed himself. He was shot through the head while with his regiment, which was proceeding to Luzon for maneuvers. The report of the happening is meager as to details, but it is believed that he is a suicide.

Lorimer Report March 23.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The senate committee investigating the election of Senator Lorimer agreed to take up on March 23 consideration of a report to be made to the senate. The committee hopes to dispose of the matter on that day.

Y., and the issuance of warrants at Chicago for President Ryan, of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, and R. H. Houlihan, of the Chicago union, came as a great surprise to the federal officials here.

It was planned to make all the arrests of persons indicted by the federal grand jury in the dynamite cases simultaneously, and the officials do not understand how instructions could have been misunderstood.

United States District Attorney Miller refused to admit that warrants had been sent either to Chicago or Rochester, and said that no information would be given out by him until he was officially informed of the arrests. He would not deny that Dowd, Ryan and Houlihan had been indicted.

President Ryan is in Indianapolis, and has been at the office of the Iron Workers' union continuously for several days. He said he did not see why a warrant should be issued for him in Chicago, when it was known that he was in Indianapolis. Ryan refused to say whether or not he had made preparations to furnish bond in the event that he should be arrested, and refused to comment further on the Chicago story, which asserted that he and Houlihan would be the first men taken into custody by United States deputy marshals.

Ryan traveled a good deal in his capacity as head of the organizing forces of the union, and in doing so it is charged came into contact with practically all the district leaders of the conspiracy. It is said to be charged that he often consulted with these district leaders concerning conditions in their districts and concerning the advisability of "helping them out" with an explosion or two. Correspondence between McNamara and Ryan and between Ryan and others, as well as letters written by other members of the conspiracy to McNamara, are alleged to show that Ryan kept his finger on operations at all times.

He was president of the union, whose board appropriated the $1000 a month to J. J. McNamara for "organizing purposes," this being the fund from which the dynamiting expenses incurred by international headquarters were paid. He also signed checks for dynamiting expenses. It is charged.

C. E. Dowd, of Rochester, N. Y., is a business agent of the machinists' local in that city, and has served as a general organizer for the International Association of Machinists. His connection with the dynamiting conspiracy is said to have arisen while he was in Detroit at a time when there were labor troubles on in that city.

It was planned to blow up numerous plants and buildings of employers of non-union labor in Detroit, and it is charged that Dowd, who was looking after the interests of the machinists in that locality, became engaged in the dynamiting plots with several other men. His chief connection with the plots is said to have been early in 1911, only a short time prior to the arrest of the McNamaras and McManis, as it was at that time that the Detroit "big plot" was brewing.

GIN CHUMS IN SUICIDE PACT

One Dead and Other May Die From Effects of Poison.

Newtown, N. J., Feb. 14.—Bertha Stevens and Emma Ryerson, each aged seventeen years, and chums, were found suffering from poison, which they had taken with suicidal intent and which the police believe is the result of a suicide pact.

Bertha Stevens, who lives with the family of Dr. Glase Cole, was the more seriously burned, and died shortly after being found. Emma Ryerson probably will die.

Forty Years For Highway Robbery.

New York, Feb. 14.—Forty years in Sing Sing prison was the punishment meted out to Edward Smith, twenty-eight years old, by Judge Fawcett, in the county court in Brooklyn, after a jury had in ten minutes convicted him of highway robbery and assault. Smith beat up Professor Frank W. Meislinger, a Brooklyn music teacher, and robbed him of $17, only six weeks after he had been released from prison for a similar offense.

Three Burn When Clothes Ignite.

McKeesport, Pa., Feb. 14.—The clothing of Samuel Kaplan, a merchant, caught fire as he was passing an open grate at his residence, and before the fire could be extinguished he had been fatally burned and his wife and son were badly injured.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear father, D.B. Myers, who died one year ago today.

One less at home!
The charmed circle broken—a dear face missed day by day from its usual place.

But cleansed, saved, perfected by grace,
One more in heaven.

One less on earth!
Its pain, its sorrow and its toil to share,

One less the pilgrim's daily cross to bear,

One more the crown of the blest to wear,

At home in heaven.

By Mrs. Jennie E. Peters.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad, but loving remembrance of my dear father, D. B. Myers, who departed this life, Feb. 14th, 1911.

Loved in life, in death remembered,
In the graveyard softly sleeping.

Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one I loved so dearly in his lonely, silent grave.

Farewell, father, may your slumber be as gentle as your love,

And when God shall call me home ward,

May I meet you in Heaven above.

By his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Collicott.

LOST SLEEP TEN YEARS

Any one who knows Mr. B. F. Suggs, of Tyner, N. C., will tell you that he speaks nothing but the truth.

Mr Suggs has suffered greatly from sleeplessness and in a recent letter says: "For ten years I have suffered greatly from a nervous ailment which caused me to lose at least three hours of needed sleep every night."

"I tried everything I could find to get relief and finally one bottle of Vinol gave me more relief than all other remedies I am grateful to Vinol for my present good health."

Many persons who are in a nervous, run-down condition get so they cannot sleep, and this is almost certain to wreck their health unless the right steps are taken.

Our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, Vinol, builds up the body and nourishes the nerves with pure, rich blood, and makes it possible to get natural, restful sleep. We guarantee that Vinol will do you good (money back if it fails), and if you are weak, nervous and sleepless, you certainly should try Vinol. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

Vapor Treatment

For Catarrh, Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat and Bronchitis.

Everybody knows that breathing HY-OMEI a few times a day through the little hard rubber pocket inhaler will in a short time drive out catarrh.

Many people regularly use the vapor treatment at night in conjunction with the inhaler, claiming that it hastens results.

This is the vapor treatment: Into a bowl three quarters full of boiling water pour a scant teaspoonful of HY-OMEI, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for five minutes the soothing, healing, antiseptic HY-OMEI vapor. Try it when using HY-OMEI for any nose or throat ailment.

HY-OMEI is guaranteed by The People's Drug Store to put an end to catarrh, or money back. A bottle of HY-OMEI costs 50 cents; a complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1.00.

HARDWARE

No more Drudgery if you Use a QUEEN WASHER.

SAFE, SIMPLE, POWERFUL, DURABLE, HANDY

The QUEEN Washer does all the hard work; pays for itself several times over each year, and lasts many years. It washes much faster than others by reason of the thorough, positive agitation. This means a great saving of time.

Now, that you see how the QUEEN will relieve you of all this drudgery, why not get a QUEEN at once? You will never do without it again. You will wonder how you could get along without it.
